

Updated on March 23, 2020

Thank you for visiting this website (“Site”) for the North American Primate Sanctuary Alliance. Your privacy is very important to us. This document informs you of our policies regarding the collection, use, and disclosure of personal information we receive from users of this Site. The North American Primate Sanctuary Alliance, a fiscally sponsored project of Community Initiatives, (“NAPSA”, “we” or “our”). This privacy statement applies to the activities of NAPSA but not to our fiscal sponsor Community Initiatives nor any of their other fiscally sponsored projects.

By using this Site, you agree to the collection and use of information in accordance with this policy. This policy is effective as of the date noted above. We reserve the right to update or change our policy at any time. Your continued use of the Site after we post any modifications to this policy will constitute your acknowledgment of the modifications and your consent to abide and be bound by the modified policy.

Information Collected

Our Site does not collect information about you during your visit through cookies, web beacons, or other trackers for analytical purposes. Your IP address along with the date and time of your visit or pages viewed may be logged by the server for website security purposes.

IP Addresses

Internet Protocol (“IP”) addresses are used by your computer every time you are connected to the Internet. Your IP address is a number that is used by computers on the network to identify your computer. IP addresses are automatically collected by our web server as part of demographic and profile data known as “traffic data” so that data such as the web pages you request can be sent to you.

Use of Your Information

We use Personal Information for purposes of administering our business activities and providing education and/or services to our partners, clients, and prospective clients. If you email us, we may use your Personal Information to contact you with newsletters or other information that we think may be of interest to you. You may opt out of these communications at any time, excluding emails directly relating to any ongoing business we have together.

We will never sell or otherwise provide your information to any unaffiliated third parties without your prior consent. We may disclose information when legally compelled to do so, or when we, in good faith, believe that the law requires it or for the protection of our legal rights.

NAPSA may aggregate information about you and other individuals together so that the information does not identify you personally. NAPSA may use information in these forms for any legitimate business purpose, including for research and analysis, administration of services, advertising and promotional purposes.

Email Policies

We are committed to keeping your e-mail address confidential. We do not sell, rent, or lease any lists to third parties, and we will not provide your personal information to any third-party individual, government agency, or company at any time unless strictly compelled to do so by law.

We will use your e-mail address solely to provide timely information about NAPSA and news and information related to our mission.

If you choose to correspond with us through email, we will retain the content of your email messages together with your email address and our responses. We will maintain the information you send via e-mail in accordance with applicable state and federal law. All e-mails sent from NAPSA will state who the e-mail is from and provide information on how to contact the sender.

We use a third party provider to deliver our newsletter. You can unsubscribe from our newsletter at any time by clicking the unsubscribe link at the bottom of any of our emails or by emailing us directly.

Use of External Links

Our Site may contain links to enable you to visit other websites of interest easily. However, once you have used these links to leave our Site, we do not have any control over the other websites. We cannot be responsible for the protection and privacy of any information which you provide while visiting such sites, and such sites are not governed by this privacy statement.

We cannot provide any assurance as to the accuracy of information found at any linked site not managed by NAPSA. Links to or from external sites not owned or controlled by NAPSA do not constitute an endorsement of these sites or the products or information presented therein.

Intellectual Property Rights

All copyrights, trademarks, patents and other intellectual property rights in and on our website and all content and software located on the Site shall remain the sole property of NAPSA or its licensors.

You must not:

- Republish material from our website without prior written consent, with the exception of our advocacy documents and letters.
- Sell or rent material from our website.
- Reproduce, duplicate, create derivative works, copy or otherwise exploit material on our website for any purpose.
- Redistribute any content from our website, including onto another website.

The use of our trademarks, content and intellectual property is forbidden without the express written consent from NAPSA. Contact us at info@sanctuary-alliance.org should you wish to repurpose any of NAPSA's content.

Acceptable Use

You agree to use our Site only for lawful purposes, and in a way that does not infringe the rights of, restrict or inhibit anyone else's use and enjoyment of the Site. Prohibited behavior includes harassing or causing distress or inconvenience to any other user, transmitting obscene or offensive content or disrupting the normal flow of dialogue within our Site. You must not use our Site to send unsolicited commercial communications. You must not use the content on our Site for any marketing related purpose without our prior express written consent.

Use of Testimonials

In accordance with the FTC guidelines concerning the use of endorsements and testimonials in advertising, please be aware of the following:

Testimonials that appear on this Site reflect the personal opinion and real life experiences of those who have used our services. They are individual results and results vary. We do not claim that they are typical results. The testimonials are not necessarily representative of all of those who will use our services.

NAPSA is not responsible for any of the opinions or comments posted on our Site or social media. To protect against abuse, testimonials appear after they have been reviewed by management of NAPSA.

Removal of Information

If you would like to delete your Personal Information, you can email us at info@sanctuary-alliance.org. Please note that we may retain some information from or about you in accordance with applicable law including, without limitation, for various legal, operational, accounting, and auditing purposes.

Response to Do-Not-Track Signals

Because NAPSA is not tracking personally identifiable information or visits for analytical purposes, the website does not recognize automated browser signals regarding tracking mechanisms, which may include 'do-not-track' instructions.

Access From a Mobile Device

NAPSA collects and uses information about you in the same way and for the same purposes if you access the Site from a mobile device as when you use a desktop computer.

Security

The security of your Personal Information is of great importance to us. We have put into place policies to safeguard and secure the information we collect. However, no method of transmission over the Internet, or method of electronic processing or storage, is 100% secure. While we strive to protect your Personal Information, we cannot guarantee its absolute security. Should a data breach occur despite these efforts, we will respond as discussed in this policy and consist with applicable law.

Disclaimer and Limitation of Liability

NAPSA makes no representations, warranties, or assurances as to the accuracy, currency or completeness of the content contained on this site. All the materials on this site are provided "as is" without any express or implied warranty of any kind, including warranties of merchantability, noninfringement of intellectual property or fitness for any particular purpose. In no event shall NAPSA or its agents or associates be liable for any damages whatsoever (including, without limitation, damages for loss of profits, business interruption, loss of information, injury or death) arising out of the use of or inability to use the materials, even if it has been advised of the possibility of such loss or damages.

Governing Law

This notice and our privacy practices are exclusively subject to the laws of the State of California within the United States of America, without regard to its conflict of laws doctrine. By using the Site, you irrevocably submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of California for any claim or matter arising under or in connection with the Site.

If You Live Outside the United States

The Site is hosted and operated entirely in the United States and is subject to United States law. Any Personal Information that you provide to NAPSA is being transferred to us for use solely in the United States and will be hosted on United States servers. By using this Site, you understand that your information will be transferred to our servers and those third parties with whom we share it as described in this Notice. If you are accessing the Site from outside the United States, please be advised that United States law may not offer the same privacy protections as the law of your jurisdiction.

If you are from a jurisdiction whose information collection practices differ from ours, please notify us so that we may take necessary action.

NAPSA is committed to resolving any concerns you may have. If you have any questions, please email us at info@sanctuary-alliance.org.

Contact

If you have any questions regarding this policy, or your dealings with our Site, please contact us at info@sanctuary-alliance.org.