Dear Mr. Brodzik,

We write to you in response to the Lake County Fair's plans to include a "Banana Derby" performing monkey show. As experts in the field of primate care, we respectfully ask that you reconsider this event – for the good of both the monkeys and public perception of the Lake County Fair.

While it may seem amusing on the surface, the monkeys used in these spectacles are poorly treated. Although the records of many monkey rental operators are generally less than stellar, and training and housing conditions can be incredibly stressful (and often abusive), the simple fact that they are forced to dress up and perform on cue in a terribly unnatural situation is reason enough for many people to boycott such events.

The entire lifetime of a primate is negatively affected when they are exploited for entertainment. As infants, they are removed from their mothers at a very early age – years before they would naturally separate. They are trained using methods that intimidate and inhibit their innate behaviors. Even then, the intelligence and unpredictable nature of these wild animals means that they often can only be used for a short time as actors before they become too independent, unmanageable, and dangerous. Primates are then deemed useless to the entertainment industry, and sold into situations that range from uncomfortable to downright harmful. The lucky ones are able to spend the remaining years of their life in a primate sanctuary.

The North American Primate Sanctuary Alliance is a coalition of eight of the leading primate sanctuaries on the continent. In our sanctuaries, we care for over 600 primates, many of whom were formerly used in entertainment. We see how monkeys raised to entertain are forever damaged by the work forced upon them, and we look forward to the day when such archaic practices are no longer permitted.

In recent days, you have witnessed the negative publicity that performing monkey shows can bring to an otherwise successful event. Increasingly, corporations and other organizations are forswearing the usage of primates to entertain. The Lake County Fair would be wise to update its programs to account for this shift in public interest.
